Re Item V

Reasoned statement under Rule 66.2(a)(ii) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

V.1 The subject-matter of claims 8-27 is not new (Art.33(2) PCT), because the claimed subject-matter is identical to the one claimed in D1 (claims 11 and 33-51).

V.2 The subject-matter of claims 1-7 and 33-52 does not involve an inventive step and does not satisfy the criterion set forth in Article 33(3) PCT for the following reasons:

D1 describes a 'world watch live' system without mentioning the use of an electronic book viewer as a display and communications device. This description includes details about

- actual or perceived remote camera control (selection of certain views)
- use of web site, administration units, switches, communication devices
- use of wide angle lenses and the related compensation of distortion
- panning as a function of activity, etc.
- display functionality (e.g. tiling, PIP)

The problem to be solved by the present invention may therefore be regarded as how to provide an alternative end user terminal for the control of remote cameras in a 'world watch live scenario'.

From D2 it is generally known that an electronic book viewer is able to obtain any kind of information from the Internet (p.4, 3rd paragraph) with the help of usual control buttons/functions (p.11, last paragraph). The use of different media for the data transfer is also mentioned (p.3, 2nd paragraph).

Therefore, choosing an electronic book viewer is merely one of several straightforward possibilities from which the skilled person would select, in accordance with circumstances, without the exercise of inventive skill, in order to solve the problem posed.

V.3 The subject-matter of claims 28, 29 and 32 is not new (Art.33(2) PCT), because an electronic book capable to download data from the Internet and comprising related link/control functions is already known from D2.

V.4 The subject-matter of claims 30 and 31 cannot be considered as involving an inventive step (Art.33(3) PCT).

Although it is not explicitly mentioned in D2 that a television set or a personal computer can be used for the display of an electronic book, the knowledge of such alternatives seems to be generally available for a person skilled in the art (see citations in D3 and D4).

V.5 The claimed invention is considered industrially applicable in the field of communication networks in accordance with Art.33(4) PCT.
